REACH OUT AND TOUCH

You're away from me now,
Not in space, but in time;
I learned from you.
You made me grow. You touched me.
Our paths may never cross again
But the moments that
We once had, the laughing, the crying,
And the rejoicing will never disappear
From our memories.
I cannot cry because you're gone.
I can only be grateful that
You were once here.

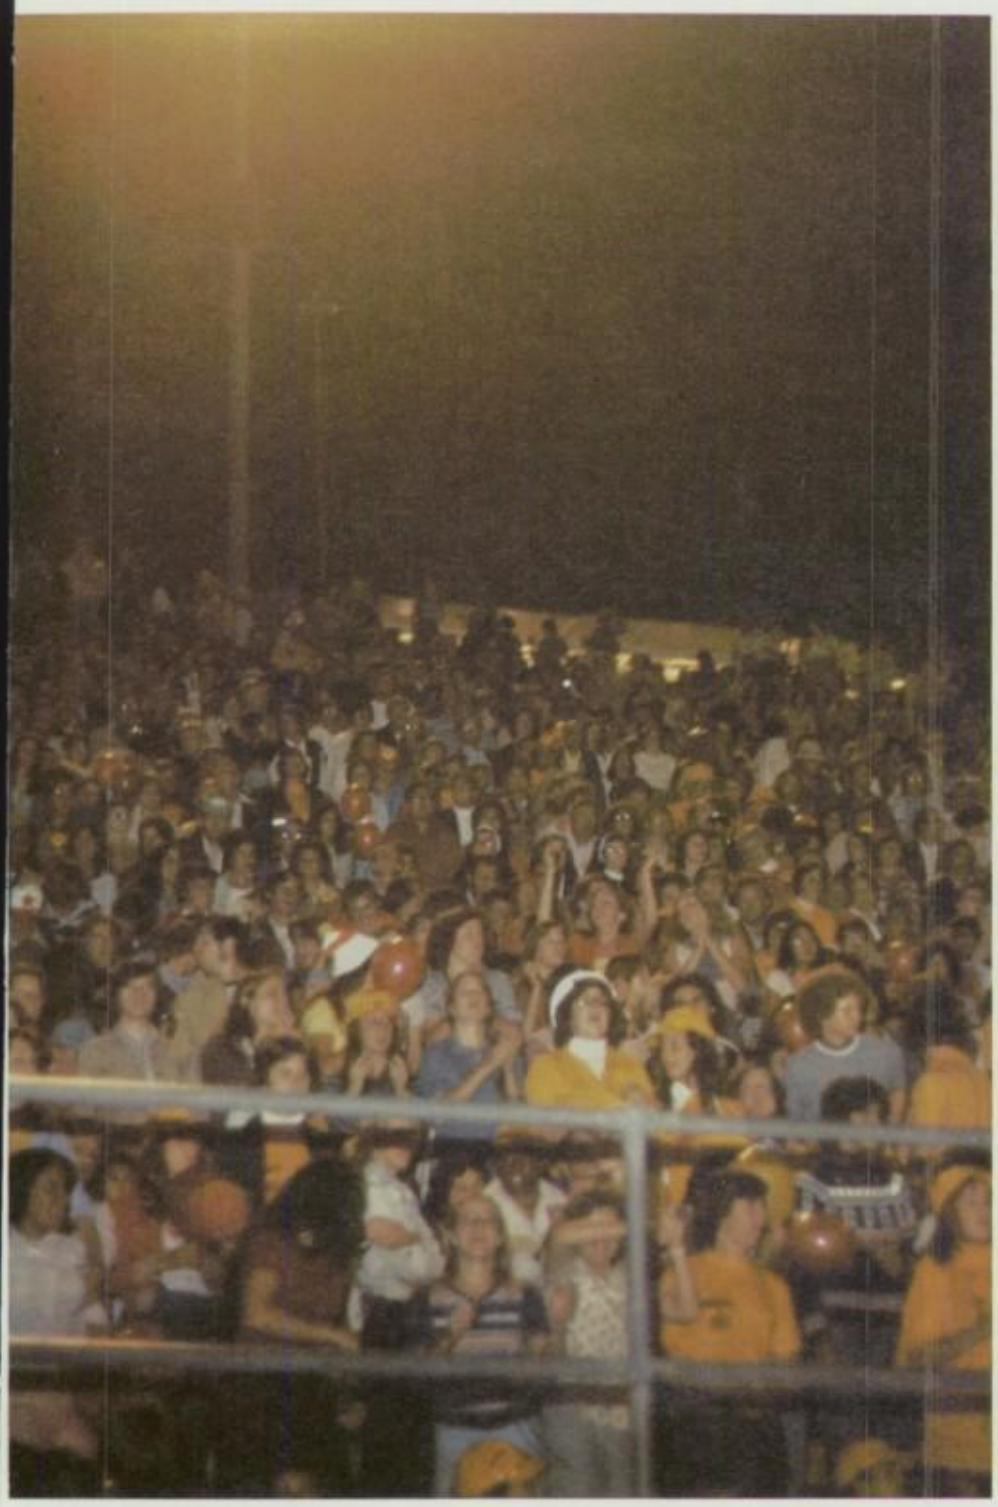
"UNI"-FIED THROUGH THE WORD

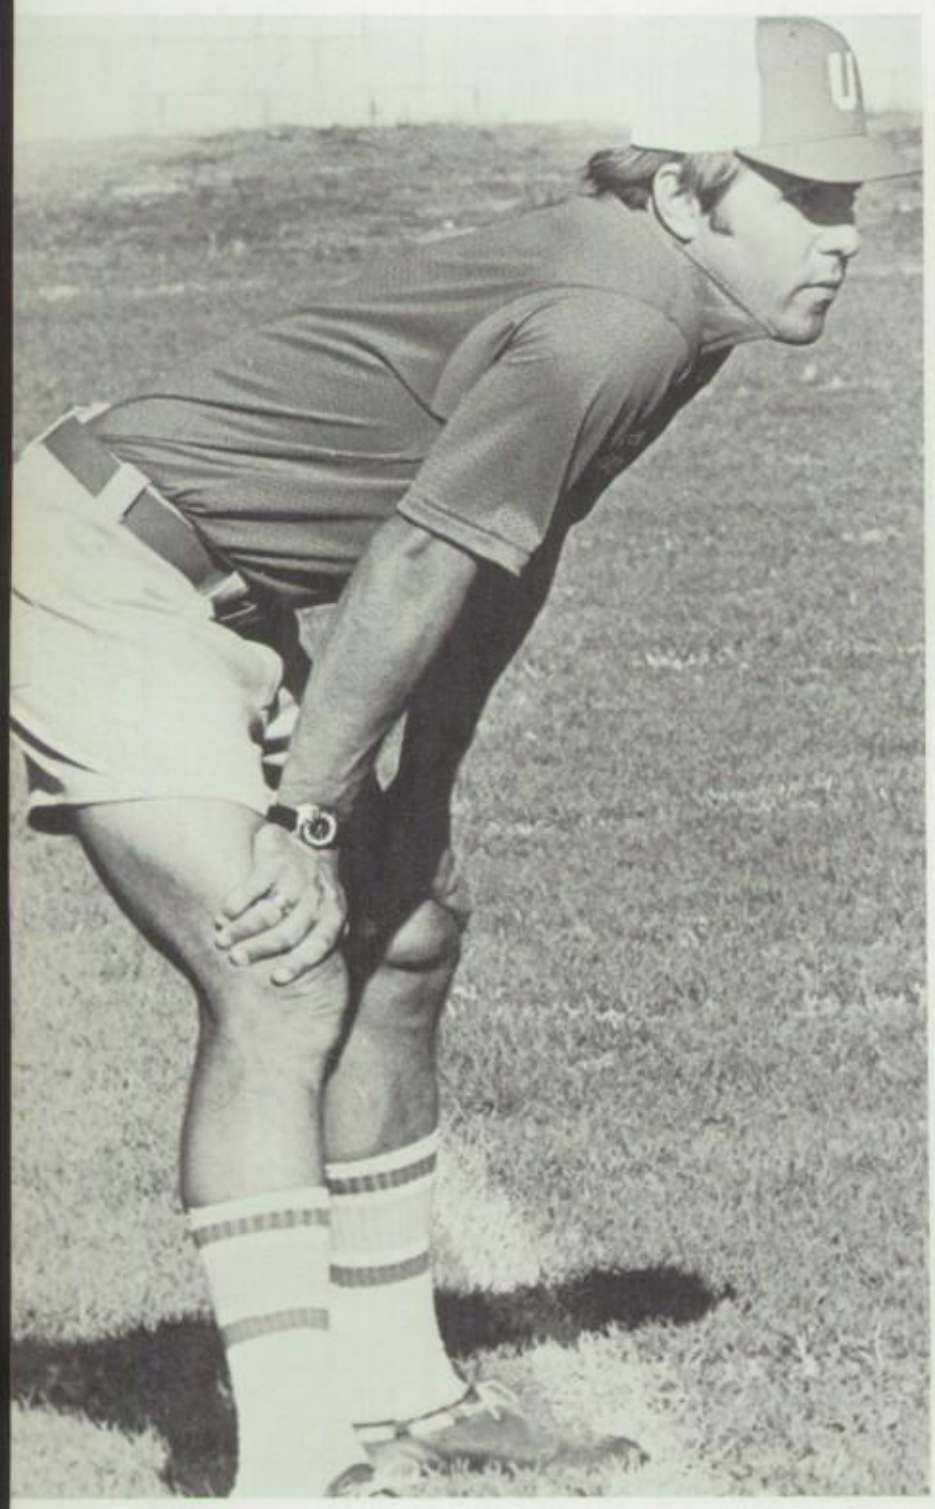
Daily masses at Uni give students the opportunity to find God in their own way. Masses are celebrated daily in the chapel and everyone is invited to participate. Special liturgies at Uni commemorate feasts such as Christmas, Easter, and all of the Holy Days of Obligation. Students have the opportunity to help in planning the liturgy and format of the Mass. The music is provided by Mr. Shafranske and all those willing to lend a voice. These masses give students the perfect opportunity to reach out in their own personal way, and share their religious beliefs with the rest of the Uni community.

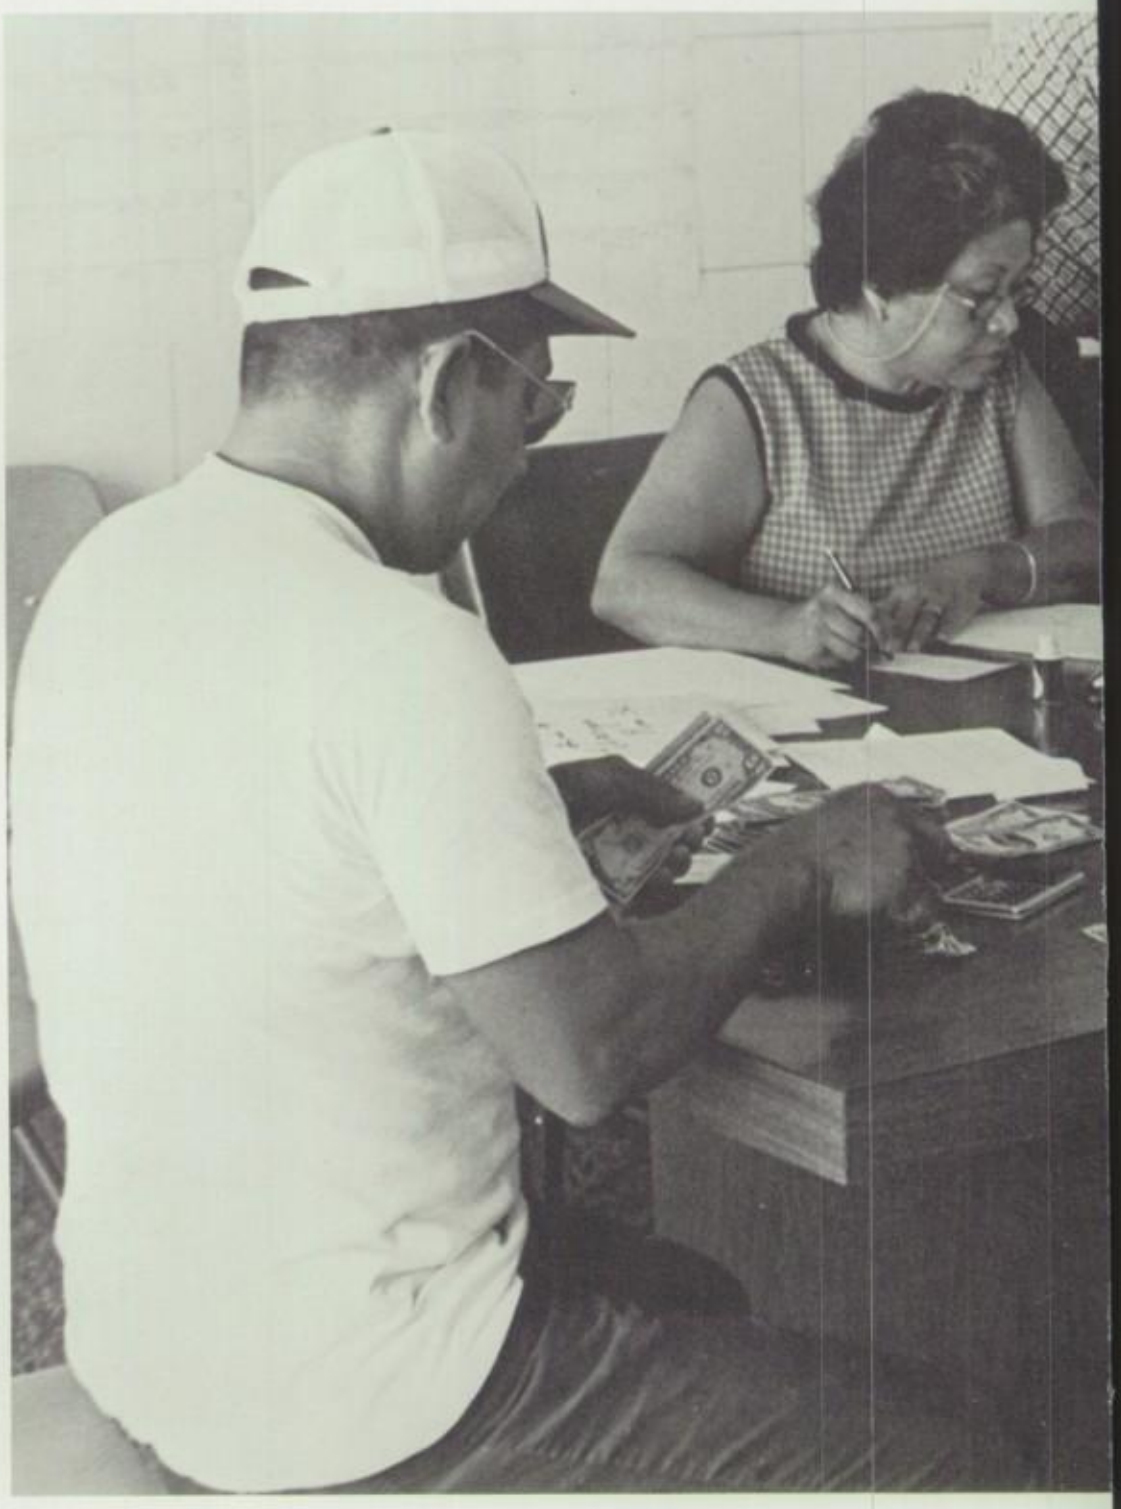
DONS TAKE IT AGAIN

This year's Charity Bowl between University High and Saint Augustine proved to be an exciting football contest. A powerful running game and staunch defense gave the Dons an impressive 17-0 victory over the Saints. Strong team spirit and crowd participation were major factors in Uni's strong showing. Through the cheerleaders' ability to reach out and motivate the crowd, the Don team realized they had everyone's support.



WORKING TOWARD A WIN





The Charity Bowl between Uni and Saints this year was a successful event for us due to the organization by Mr. Dave Gorsich. Under his direction the Charity Bowl was an exciting evening of good football. Mothers and office workers dedicated their time in order to make the project a success. They spent long hours counting money and organizing ticket sales. Strategy is an important factor in any contest, and Coach Wargo and his staff did a fine job in preparing the team. School spirit was overwhelming throughout the day. Coaches, parents, students — everyone reached out to enjoy an evening of fun and excitement.

The special duty of the A.S.B. Cabinet is to reach out to all Uni students. They act as communicators between students and the faculty. Through the A.S.B., student proposals are put into action and made known. The A.S.B. members are constantly working on coordinating dances, lunch time activities, club activities, etc. These officers have exhibited leadership qualities needed for successful student government and deserve our congratulations and appreciation.

The Presidio staff is responsible for the fine yearbook here at Uni High. Through their dedication and participation in school activities, the yearbook continues to get better every year. All the staff members use this opportunity to reach out and show the Uni community what has happened during the year. They capture those fond, exciting, and cherishable memories everyone will remember for the rest of their lives.

"SPIRIT" FLOWS THROUGH SCHOOL

Halloween on campus this year was a strange experience. Participation was overwhelming from students and faculty. Disguised characters, ranged from the cookie monster to a pair of chickens, from a clown to a pair of mermaids. Everyone dressed up to share in the fun. Prizes were awarded for the best costume and for the best looking group costume.

FRESHMEN

The first week is chaos, but after that everything is cool

Freshman spirit in the past at Uni has always been outstanding. This year's frosh class, led by spirited moderator, Brother John, have definitely played par for the course. Beginning with the title of those that sold the most Charity Bowl tickets, they continued to round off the year with their ever-growing "green horn" spirit.

Juniors start new traditions

Receiving your school ring is one of the many excitements in a junior's school year. Because this is such a special event the juniors held a mass at the Immaculata for the blessing of the rings, starting a new tradition. Extra emphasis was put on what the ring symbolizes: unity which surely the class of 1978 has.

Yes, the juniors have done a lot of hustling this year. From going bananas during spirit week to raising up junior enthusiasm throughout the year. They have searched long and reached out far to find new ways to make that big event, the "Prom", something special.

Very soon the year will end, then there will be only one more step. The end of the year brings us to the long awaited thrill--being seniors (at last), searching for ourselves and reaching out to touch our futures....

AUTOGRAPHS

Pat

Here it is the beginning of the end, no not really the end because I intend on seeing you still. It sure is a bummer that the birthdate deadline is Dec. 2 and I got through and you didn't otherwise you would be a Senior too! We sure had a lot of great times this past year like all those football games at Balboa with that crazy "Don" robot! and the Aztec football game and all those nights at Swensens! and the sticky chewy chocolate. The KCBQ night with thie San Diego Friars and we actually thought we might have our tickets chosen to try and return their serve! Remember all those trips to Encinitas. The Donkey Basketball game and you still think the scoreboard was wrong don't you???!!! We still should have won though! I was never so embarrassed in all my life as when I was on that donkey backwards!!! The prom dinner and the after-prom were really great!!! Well that's all for the memories so now starts the one liner punch lines to bring back memories. 204 plan B  But I liked the 304 better Youte moving to Encinitas  70 miles per hour  The volley ball game at Grossmont J.C.  I sure do wonder what's in that big box I can't even pickit up  Sticky chewy chocolate  Black Barts Swiss Orange Chip Seniors kick  So much for the Soccer team  Donkey Basketball game  Drive-thru McDonalds  Burger King  Strawberry shakes  McDonald land cookies  The Jesters  The Dons  The architect scale  The LaVelle's yuk, the master and the slave  Harbor Cruise  Lori, Mutsuo, Pam and Mark  Mark the Ladies man  Space, Mountain  Winnie the Pooh  Front and back Mickeys Disco Duck  Car Wash  Bali Hai  Hot Chocolate  The upper deck  Century 21  The San Diego Friars  Talkin' my time  We mustn't forget shoveling the grass  The pool  up the horseheads  Bomelli's  Coming home at 7:00 am  us Grant  Cruising Downtown to before the beach  stupid Consuelo's  But it was as good a while it lasted  Turn to page 14  Getting lost at the after prom ***

Reaching out with friends, growing together, experiencing life molded through dreams.
Reaching out with laughter lighted faces, special smiles, open hands.
Reaching out in the things we did together,
A special community of treasured friends,
helping us along our journey of life.
Times have left a mark on us,
Times we'll always remember, forever cherished in our hearts.
Reaching out, from what we've learned.
Traveling on a special road, with special people, caring, loving, reaching out.

we made 342 dollars  For all that junk  Jewelery to make Christmas trees with  No snow this year too bad  Turn to the first white blank page after the first two red pages after the white cover for the closing of this presentation!!! Hurry up you don't want to miss it do you!!!!!!!!!

May the road rise up to meet you,

May the wind be always at your back,

May the sunshine warm upon your face,

And the rains fall soft upon your fields,
And until we meet again,
May God hold you in the Bread baking mini-course:

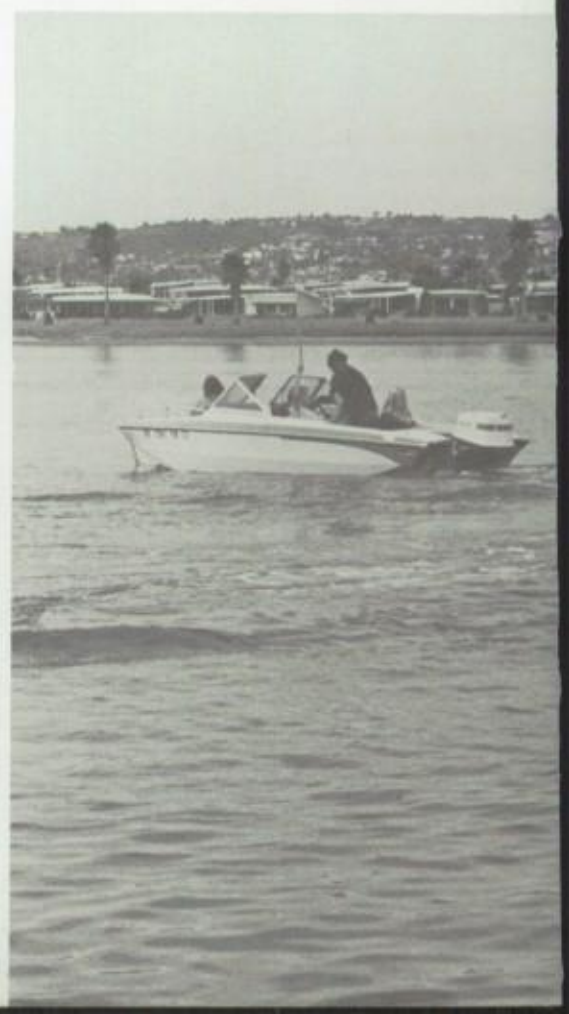
Miss Ruiz and Monica Ainslie braid the orange bread.
Chinese almond cookies are good--BUT I'm getting tired of rolling this dough.
I hope these taste as good as they look.

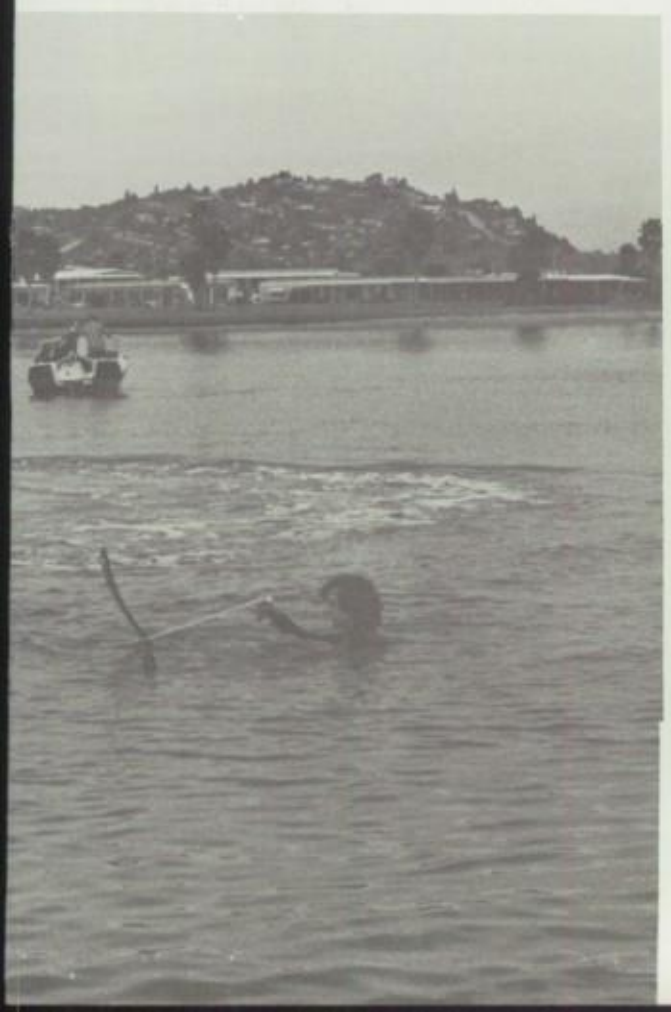
This year at Uni, a variety of experiences were offered for mini-courses. Students described the courses as, "Fun!" "Exciting." "A blast." "Okay." "Different".



Fencing mini-course:
On guard--watch it that's a sharp blade.
Now now!--I'm right in the middle of a Rothchilds!

MINI-COURSES: A BREAK IN YEAR'S ROUTINE

Though the teachers still taught and the students still learned, it was quite an experience for all participants. Mini-courses are a welcome break from the regular routine at Uni.



Water skiing mini-course:
If I could just get up on these skiis.
Between ski turns, it sure gets cold out here.

Fishing mini-course:
A lesson in cleaning fish.
That looks like a good one.
Guy waits for the big momen

Bike riding mini-course:
All aboard, bikers--next stop,
Santa Barbara.
After the train ride, we're ready to go!
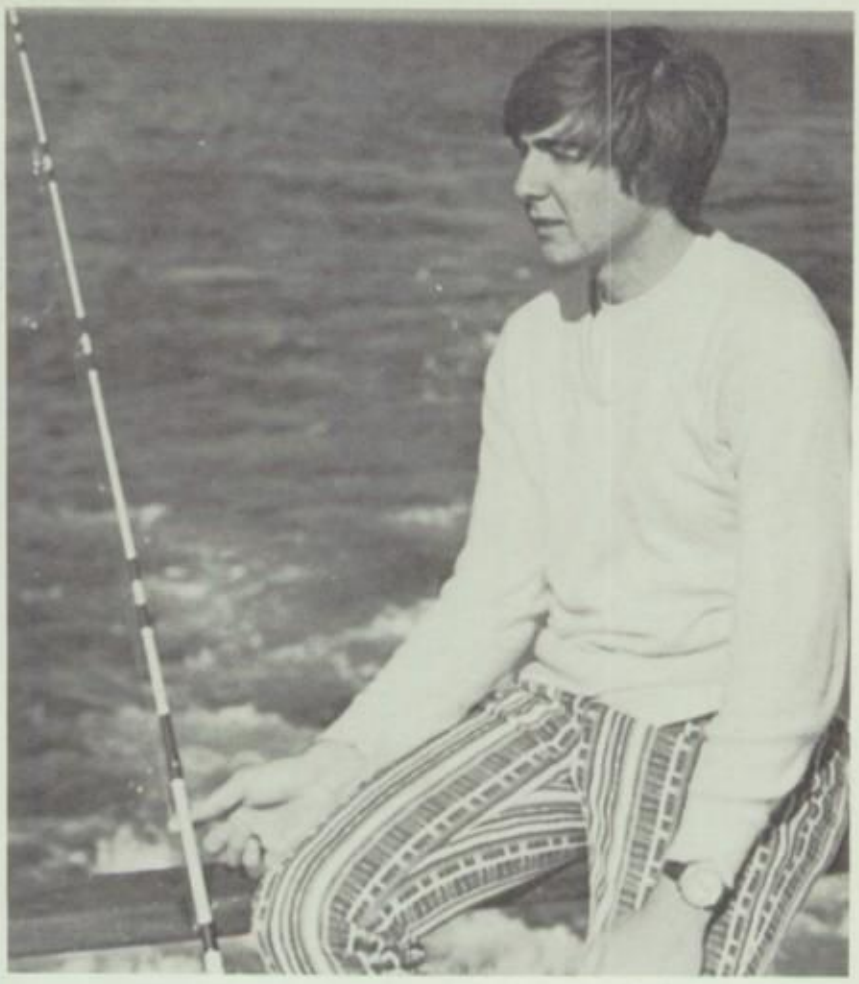
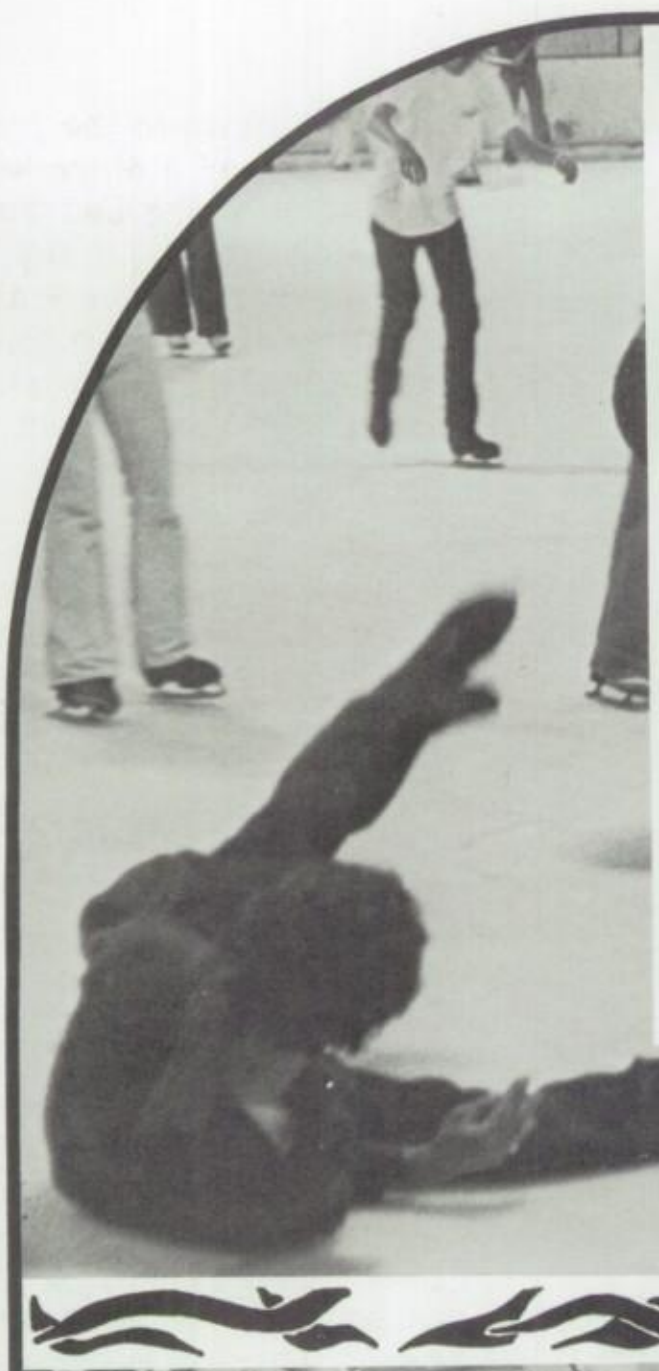
The scenery is the best part.

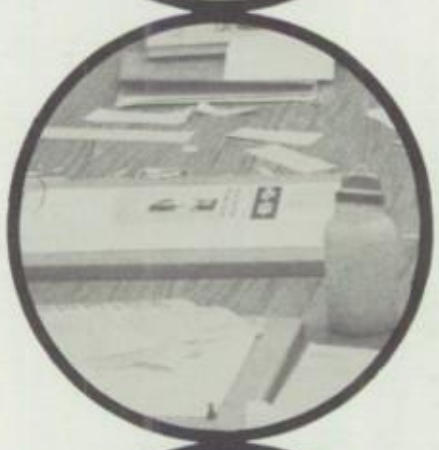
Horseback riding mini-course:
Horseback riders in formation.
Brian takes care of his horse.
Everyone won at our horse show.



Sailing mini-course:
Gee, I'm not sure about this.
We won by a nose!
Caught the wind at last!



dedicated parti-cipants pRomote involve-ment



Uni High is known to the people around campus as a place where anyone and everyone can get involved doing just about anything and everything. There are all kinds of activities and organizations for Uni students to join--to which they can reach out in their own special ways.

People who want to reach out to the horizons of their minds can find inner, intellectual satisfaction in the Science, Rocket, or Chess Clubs. These clubs are not too conspicuous around campus but, quietly, they organize and brew up the future Einsteins and Curies of the world.

For those who feel the urge to be more conspicuous and have the need to reach out to others, there are dances, cheerleading, spirit week activities, Greek week, Hi Jinx, and the Pep Club. Most outsiders would think such involved people have some sort of superiority complex as they are heard shouting, "We're number one!" (But then we are.)

For the people who want to reach out and get involved, but waver back and forth from radical involvement there are those somewhat radical, somewhat intellectual, and quiet creative groups of people with compulsions to express themselves--the Jesters and the El Cid staff.

All of these special groups, reaching out to special types of people and bringing out leaders and good times are necessary to make up the total, involved community of University High.

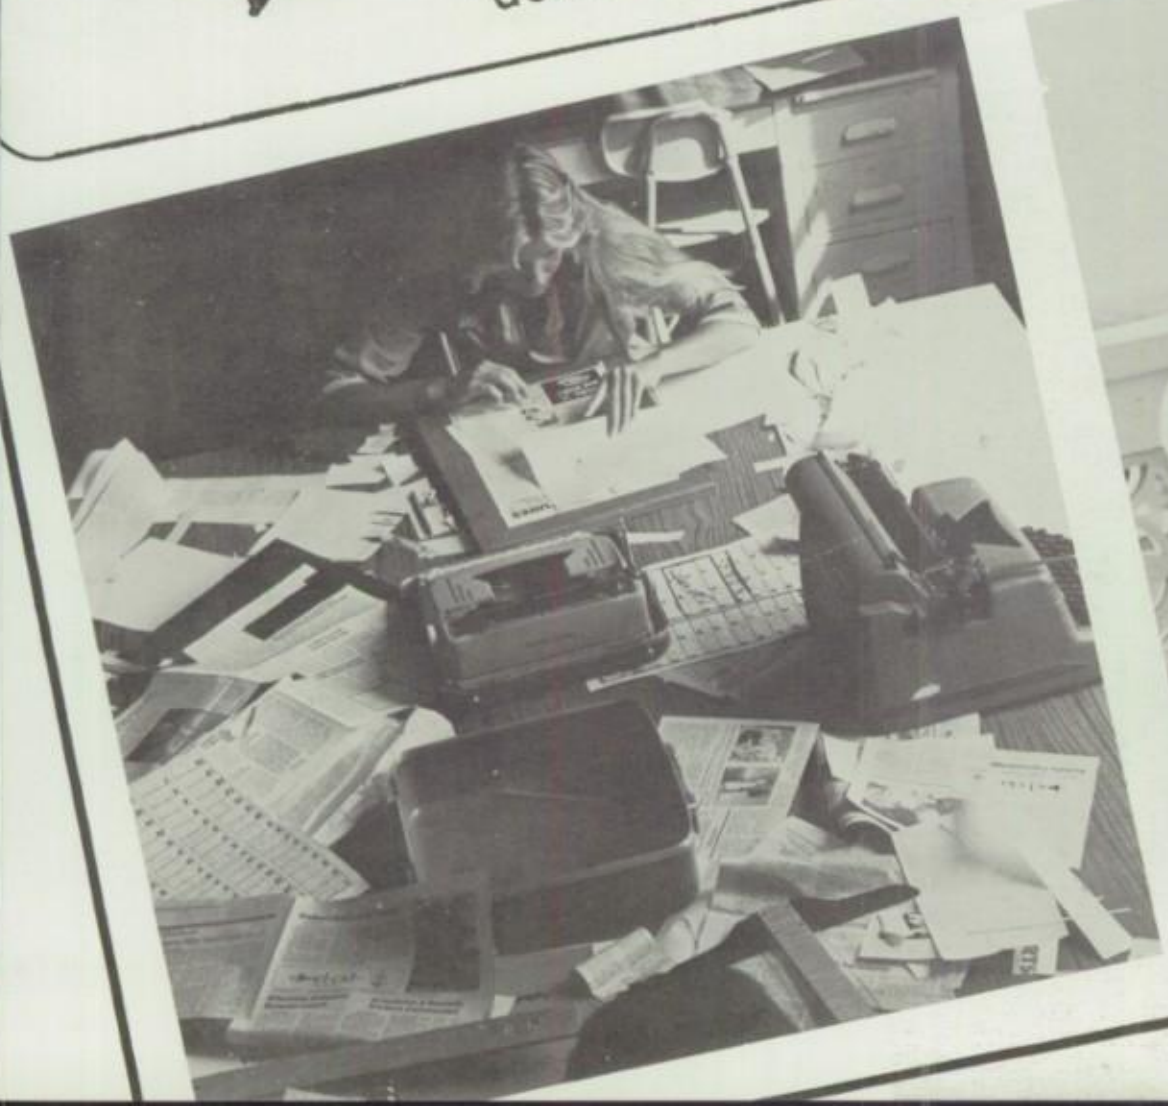
UNIVERSITY HS



'77 is classy...Go bananas... Soph's are supreme...Frosh power. During Spirit Week such sayings were continuously chanted, arousing excitement among the classes. During this active week, students showed their involvement through improvement of the school. From painting rocks to weeding gardens to toilet papering the moderators, the students competed against one another for the coveted Spirit Mug.

Students Reach Out to God

There are many different and varied religious activities for students at Uni. Among these are daily Masses, special liturgies for Holy Days, Masses for the teams, and of course, Searches.

What exactly is a Search? It is an opportunity given to Juniors and Seniors to get away and do some thinking about the important aspects of their lives. They are given the chance to learn some truths about themselves with the help of God and friends.

HERE WE COME A TRUCKIN IN--
I BET YOU WONDER WHERE WE'VE BEEN! Not only a familar chant among the cheerleaders, but it seems to have some underlining meaning. For as well as boosting our teams toward CIF, the cheerleaders also were involved in car washes, bake sales, and they even sang on B-100 to arouse spirit. So, to this ambitious and spirited cheerleading squad we say, "WE ARE PROUD OF YOU!"

Under the direction of Mr. Paul Collins, the members of the science club endeavor to learn all they can about science and its related fields and equipment. Most science club members are interested in one or more of the various fields of physical science. The laser is of special interest to the whole group. Members learn more about these subjects by visiting scientific institutions, hearing guest speakers, and conducting laboratory investigations. This year, for the first time, the science club is allowed access to the school biology, chemistry, and physics labs. With the use of all these resources, better Science Fair projects are produced and the desire of these students to learn, invent, and discover begins to be fulfilled.

Jesters Capture Audience

The Jesters have shown great acting ability this year through their plays. STALAG 17, a comedy, portrayed life in the prison camps. Another excellent drama acted out by the Jesters was THE BARRETTS OF WIMPOLE STREET. The quality of the Jesters plays has risen greatly as the growing audiences prove.

A Creative Form of Expression

Perspective, a literary magazine, is published in the spring with the help of the five editors and Sr. Constance. A wide variety of students participate in this literary form of self-expression. Each can share their abilities and creativeness through poetry, prose, or art. Through their literary talents, the editors and contributing students reach out and touch the community of Uni High.

During the year, those participating in sports have spent many memorable as well as unmentionable and embarrassing moments together. Here in the following pages we have tried to capture these memories, bringing them together to share them with everyone: memories like the Dons football triumphs with Frank Flournoy leading the team in touchdowns. and memories of the volleyball team struggling to the Western League Championship led by Nancy Loos and Maryjane Caudill.

Many of our teams this year took Western League Championship and even went to C.I.F. Without the guidance and help of the coaches, these memories would not have been ours to share. The coaches reached out to their players with those extra hours of getting a play down right or raising a little more confidence among the team members.

Touched by the enthusiasm and faith of their coaches, the players add their own individual touch. Combining a little extra inspiration and their spare time, the players aim for perfection and go out to meet the competition.

Sports at Uni touch each student's life in one way or another. Win or lose, these events bring us together.

Napier claimed that his only need by the end of the season would be his own straight jacket.

The Girls' Basketball teams were comprised of many enthusiastic and spirited players this year. As a result, both the Varsity and JV teams had excellent seasons. Under the experienced coaching of Sr. Sara, the girls came through with an exciting and successful year. The teams' strong points were offensive playing and the fact that the girls worked well together. The girls learned to work in man to man strategies and did as well in zone defense. This made them strong competitors for other teams in the league. Some of the games' high scorers included such players as Karen Shine, Joan Robbins, Stacey Wissler, Theresa Fischer and Karen Sullivan.

UNI GETS INTO THE SWING OF THINGS

A much improved Bob Sciaqua led Uni's golf team to several major victories. Also making a strong comeback was Chuck Morningstar. Notable among Uni's other golfers were returning lettermen Steve Cologne and Guy Pacurar and varsity player Phil Strebler who helped the team to it's best finish in several seasons.

In spite of being plagued with injuries, the tennis team finished respectably. Coach Shafranske added that the team was young but had determination. Their most outstanding player, freshman Vince Couch, is considered to have excellent potential for next year. Other notable players are seniors Tom Clifford and Steve Mendez.

Golf Team: R. O'Hanlon, A. Szchotca, S. Colgne, G. Pacurar, M. Regan, M. Metcalf, D. Thoennes, S. Warren, R. Sciaqua, P. Strebler, C. Morningstar, P. Driscoll, S. Tunnel. Tennis Team: B. Souza, D. Mike Goscienski, Shamus McLaughlin and John Fowler did well in distance freestyle and all round swimmers. Other outstanding swimmers are Paul Howe, Pat Barnes, Eric Lundy and Lee Selis who is the first girl diver on an all boys' team at Uni. Mr. Wilimek commented that Lee was a welcome addition.

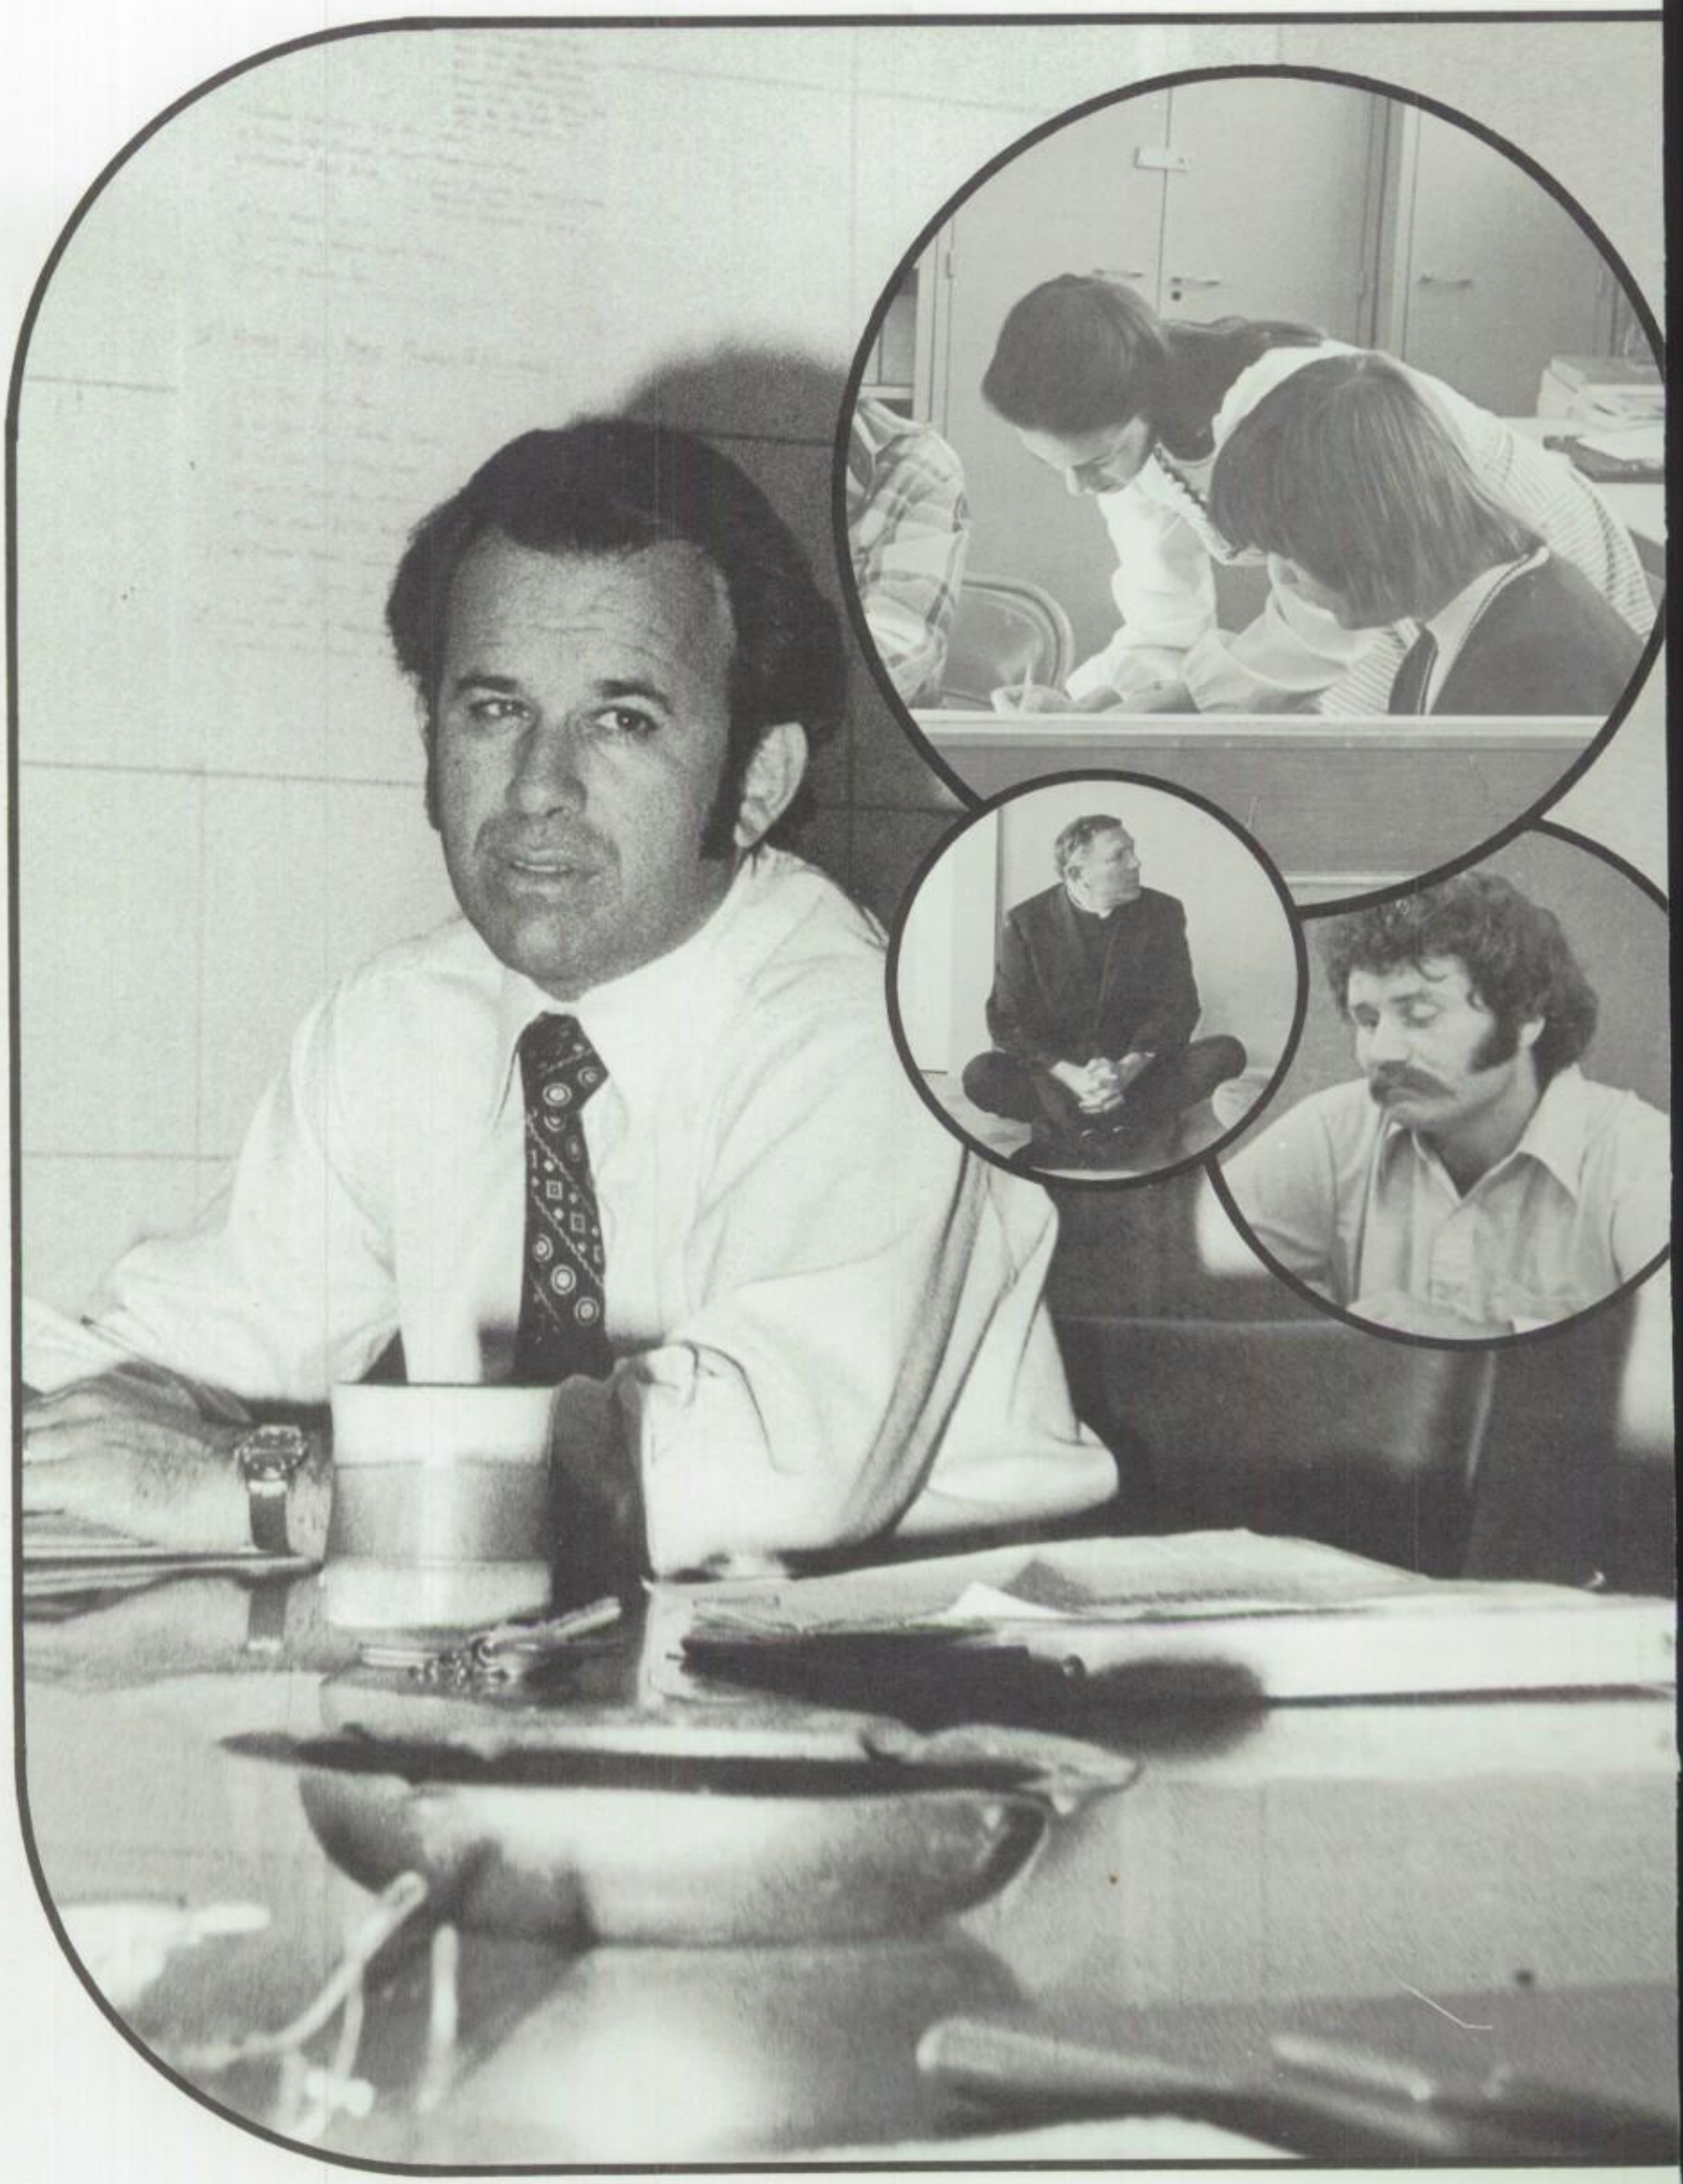
The boy's and girl's track team has been better this year than in all past years. School records were broken almost every meet. A combination of good coaching and natural ability is attributed to the success of the team. Spirit showed expecially as each person encouraged their teammate around every curve and over each hurdle. The results were stupendous and the scoring high.



Teachers offer PRomises for future years

The faculty and administration of Uni High reach out an and touch the students in very special ways--spiritually, academically, and as friends. But perhaps just as important as these means of counseling and guidance is the way in which they, by their very life styles and daily examples, encourages every individual on campus to develop to his or her full potential and reach right back out to the world with a life dedicated to the service of his fellow man.

To reach out and touch and accomplish the goal of friendship takes a special talent. Teachers break the barrier of uncertainty every day with a kind word, a smile, or a funny joke. The administrators and their efficient staff handle the everyday problems of management and school business, yet, they too are always happy to share a smile or "chew the fat" for a while. Problems are abated by the worthy counseling staff. Their concern can brighten any dreary day. And then, the patient maintainance staff--ready and willing at all times--they come through in times of need. All in all, friendship and love radiate in every direction from the faculty and staff. To them--our THANKS.

Literature: Provides Stimulation

The English Department believes that Literature is "the great storehouse of man's accomplishments and failures." Their philosophy is that education is worthless if it does not prepare the student to survive in the outside world. The need for a student to be able to express his thoughts with written symbols is very important.

students strive to PRogress by learning

Classes at Uni try to encompass all that is needed for a strong foundation for each student's present and future needs. These classes also strive to motivate individuality among students and creattivity in their work. Classes also provide a variety of skill-training useful for daily life.

Through specialized classes on campus, students can plan their schedules to meet their needs and standards.

Counseling sessions, both individual and group, prepare students to make and evaluate decisions regarding their futures here at Uni or at colleges around the country or as members of the working world.

"Run that by me one more time."

"She's really writing a love note!"

"What are YOU looking at?"

BUSINESS DEPARTMENT IS BUSY, BUSY

The main goal of the Business Department is to establish basic groundwork for use in the career world. Some classes which focus on this are Shorthand, General Business, Typing, Bookkeeping, and Business Law. Century 21 Shorthand is a rather new class which teaches skills necessary for stenographic competence.

UNI STUDENTS ENJOY ELECTIVES

Quiet, geniuses at work!

Isn't my mug beautiful?!

I'm going to hit you with this spatula!

I sure hope this turns out.

The Co-ordinate Department, headed by Mrs. Kassebaum, offers a variety of courses designed to bring out the individual and group potential for creativity. Art, Crafts, and Ceramics classes provide an outlet for those who want to create something out of nothing. Clothing and foods classes appeal to the homemaking-oriented students. And last but not least are the choral and band classes which provide entertainment for everyone. All of these classes allow the students to reach out and give something of themselves to the whole community at Uni High.

Peter jazzes it up.

Ugh! It feels like bread dough!

How's this for a pose?

You can really tell that Norma takes her work seriously.

Devoted student hard at work.

Take a good picture!

Smile Miss Rodriguez, you're on Candid Camer

EXPRESS YOURSELF THROUGH ENGLISH

Paula, are you writing a book?

Hey, I was first!

English classes help students to better understand things going on around them. The students learn to construct their ideas and thoughts into written form. In Children's Literature this year, the class was involved with writing children's books. Some of these Sr. Constance hopes will be published in the near future. Lots of luck to the authors.

STUDENTS LEARN NEW WAYS TO COMMUNICATE

University High helps students reach out to the world through the foreign language department. French, Spanish, German, and Italian classes, under the direction of Mr. Steves, enables the student to understand other peoples and places, forever opening up opportunities for exploration, and education in other parts of the world.

These classes are just one small step in the huge process of bringing people close together in this world that is getting smaller and smaller.

That's wrong Ricky!

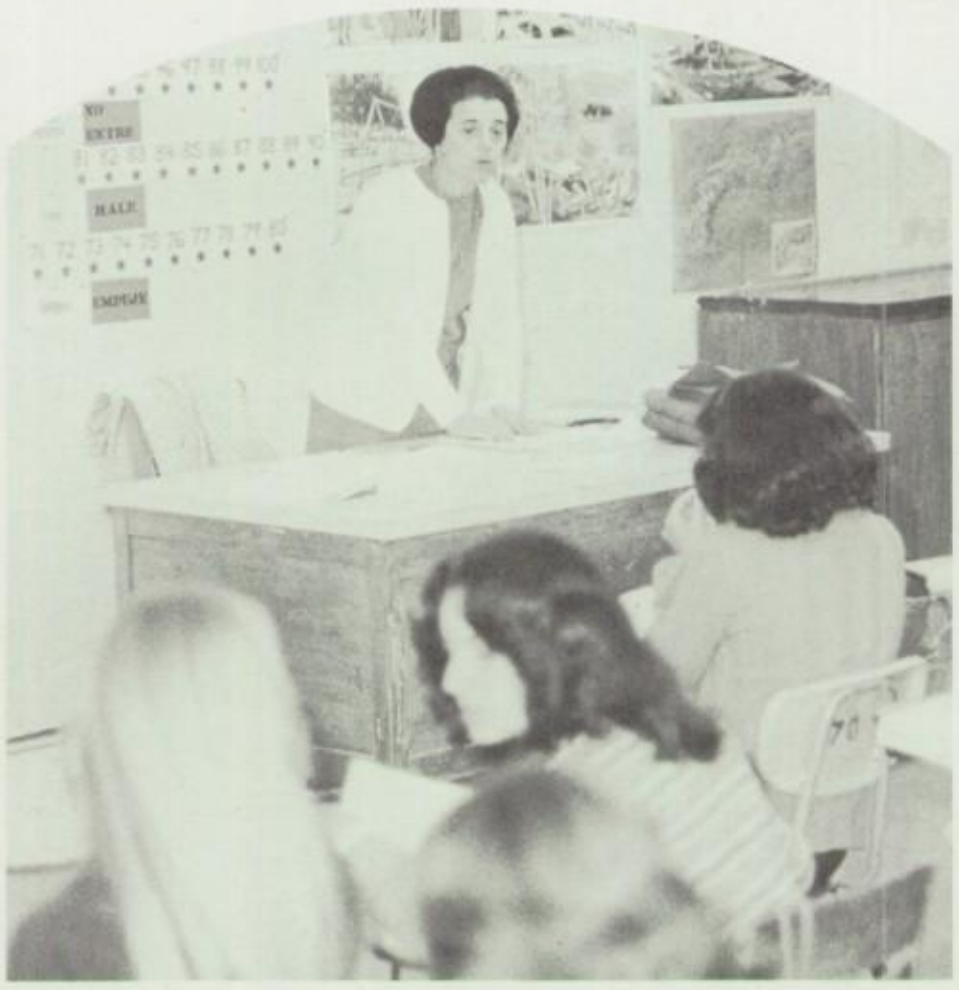
How about working?

She amazes me!

Training time at the zoo!

Isn't this great?

What was that?



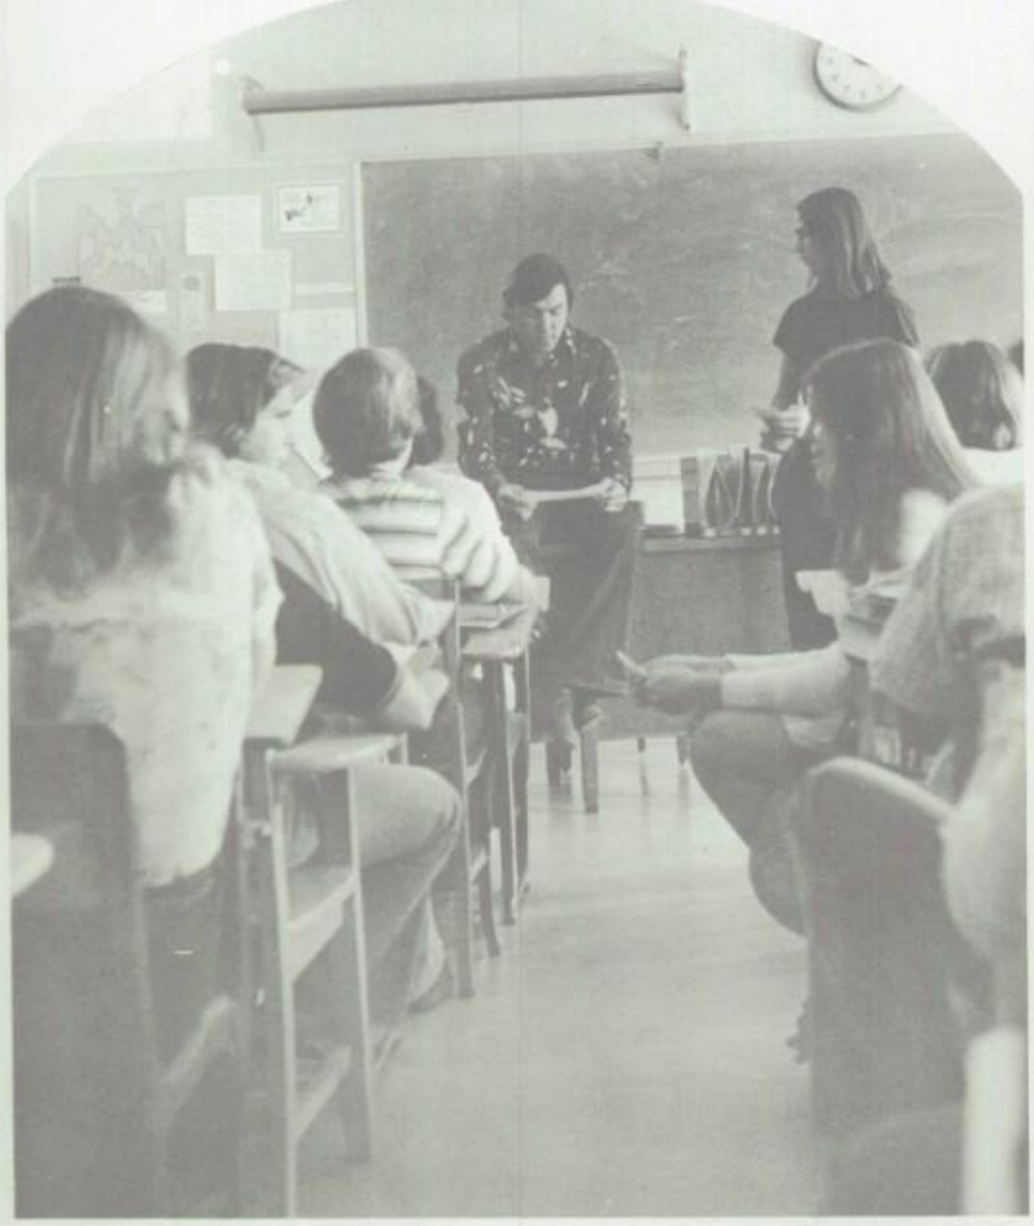
HISTORY PORTRAYS PAST AND PRESENT

History classes range from studying our country's beginnings to examining the origins of California. All help us establish links through our ancestors and examine the importance of our country.

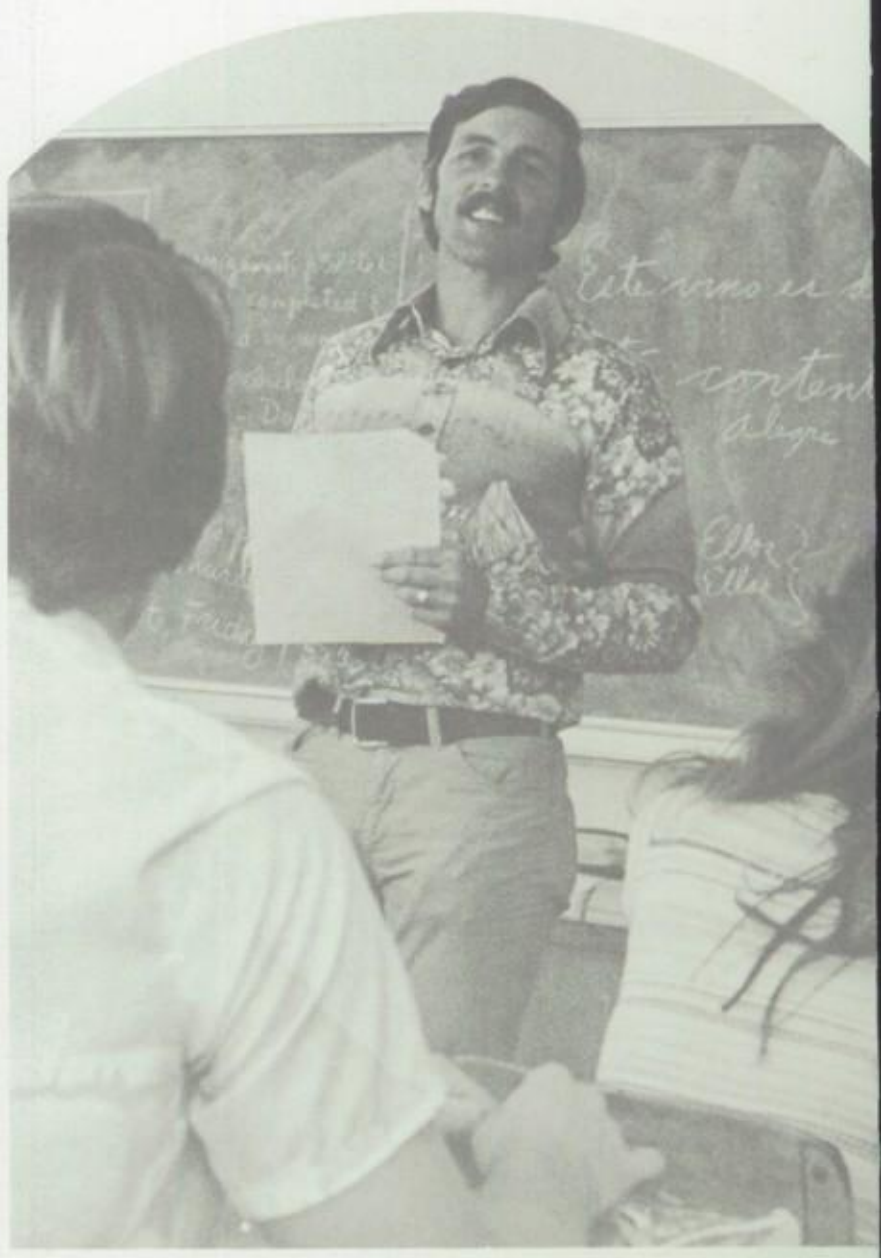
A new history class provided this year was Election '76, which examined this year's Presidential Campaign. It focused on the primaries, conventions, debates, and finally the Presidential election.

"One if by land, two if by sea."

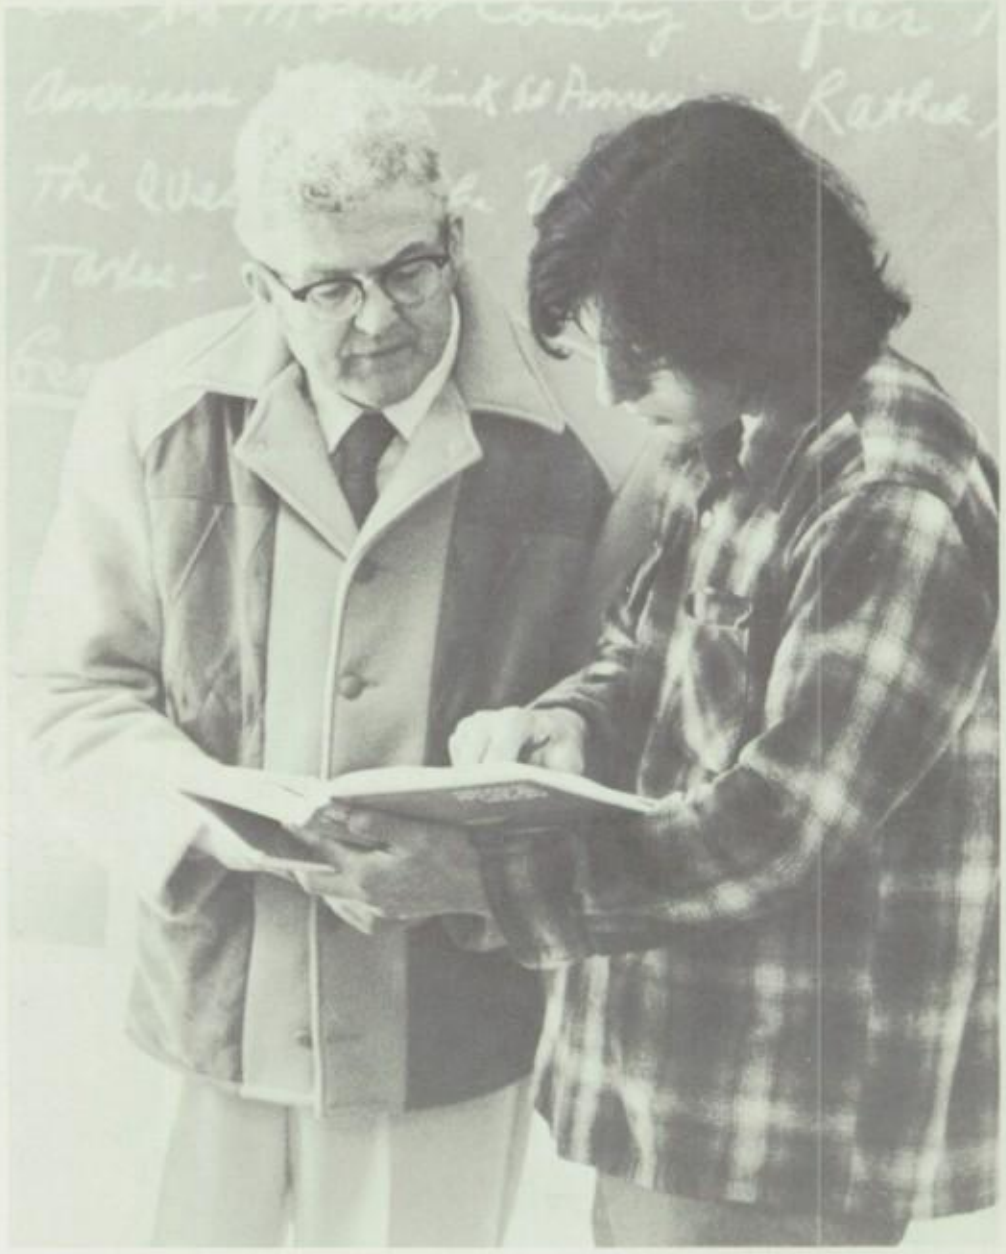
"Who do you think this one's for."



Going over another History test.



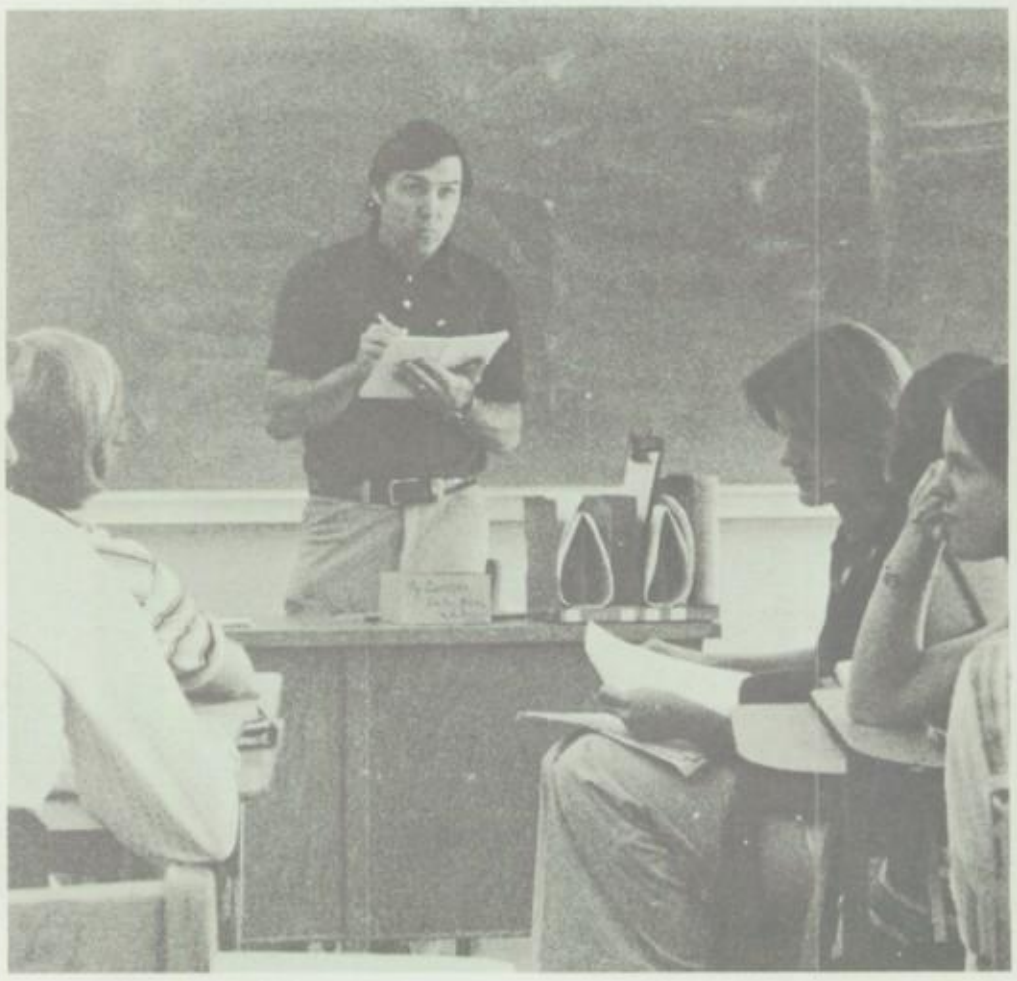
Another wide-awake teacher.



"It say's here that . . . "

"I knew the answer five minutes ago!"

Taking attendance before class.



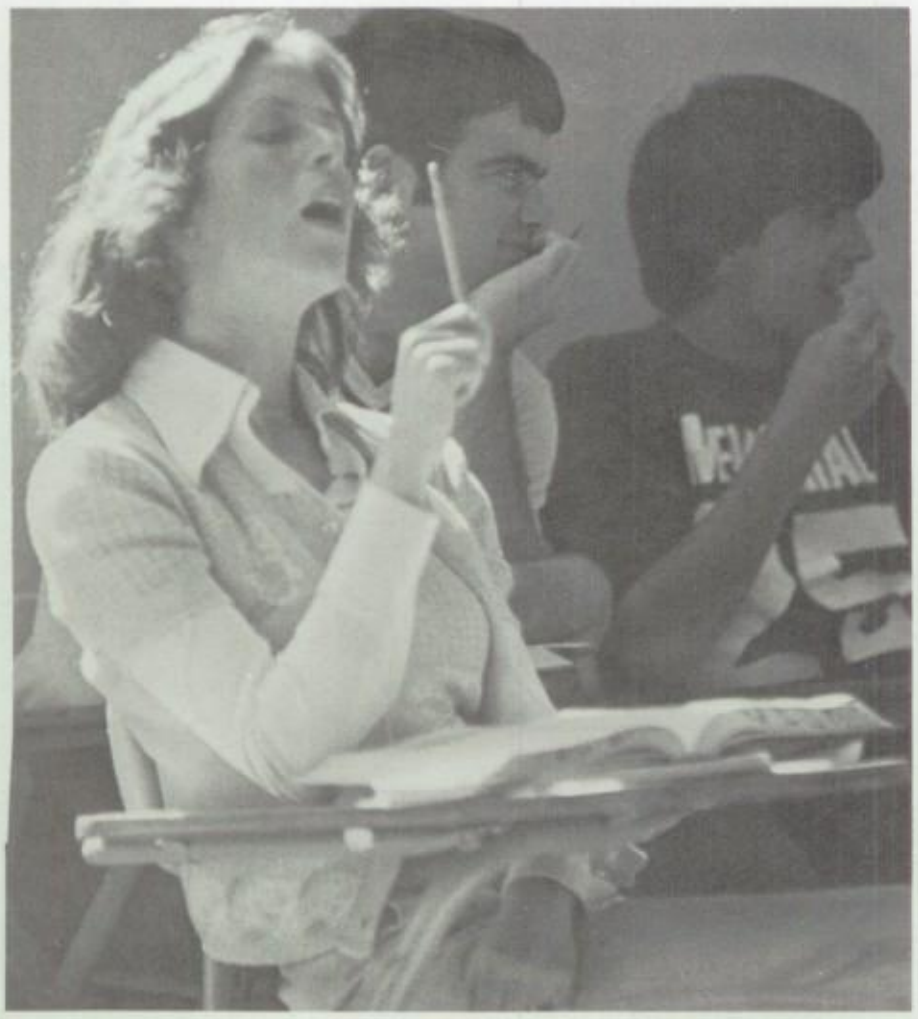
MATH DEVELOPS INDUCTIVE THOUGHT

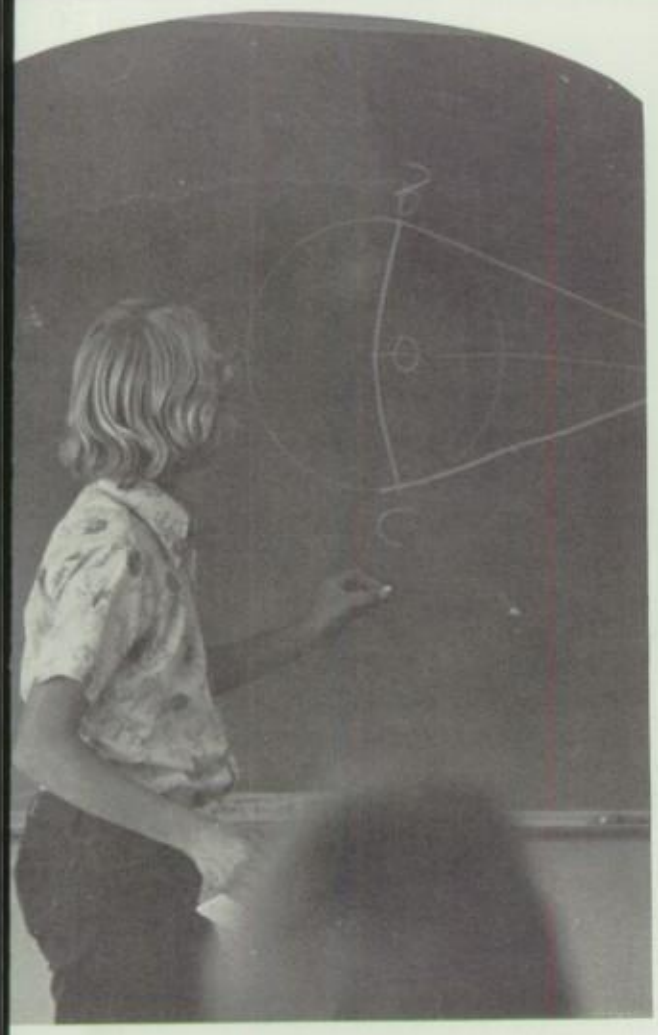
Making changes in the seating chart.

"Ah, the wonders of the pencil."

Taking another standard math test.

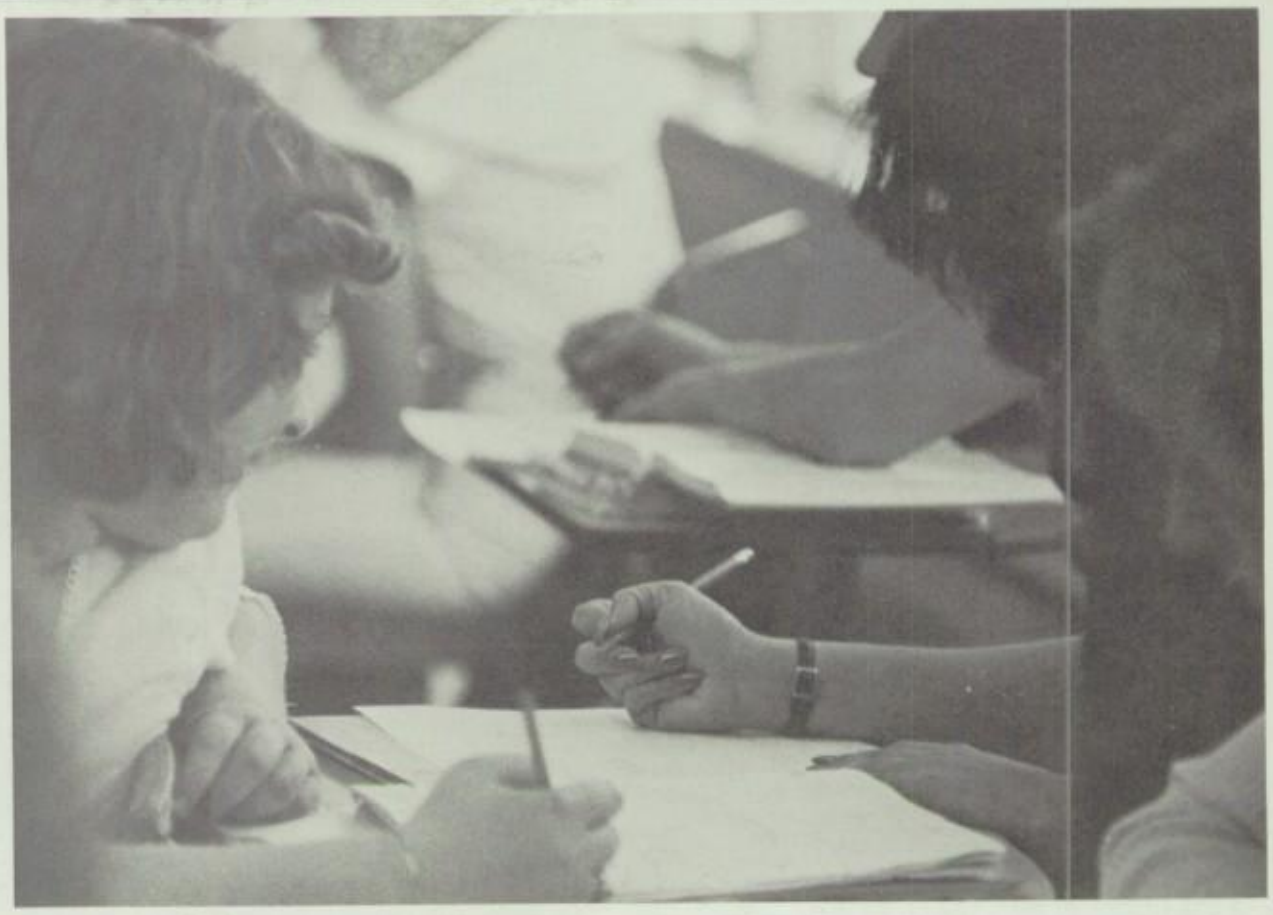
"How could I miss that one?"





Class Participation

A helping hand from the teacher.

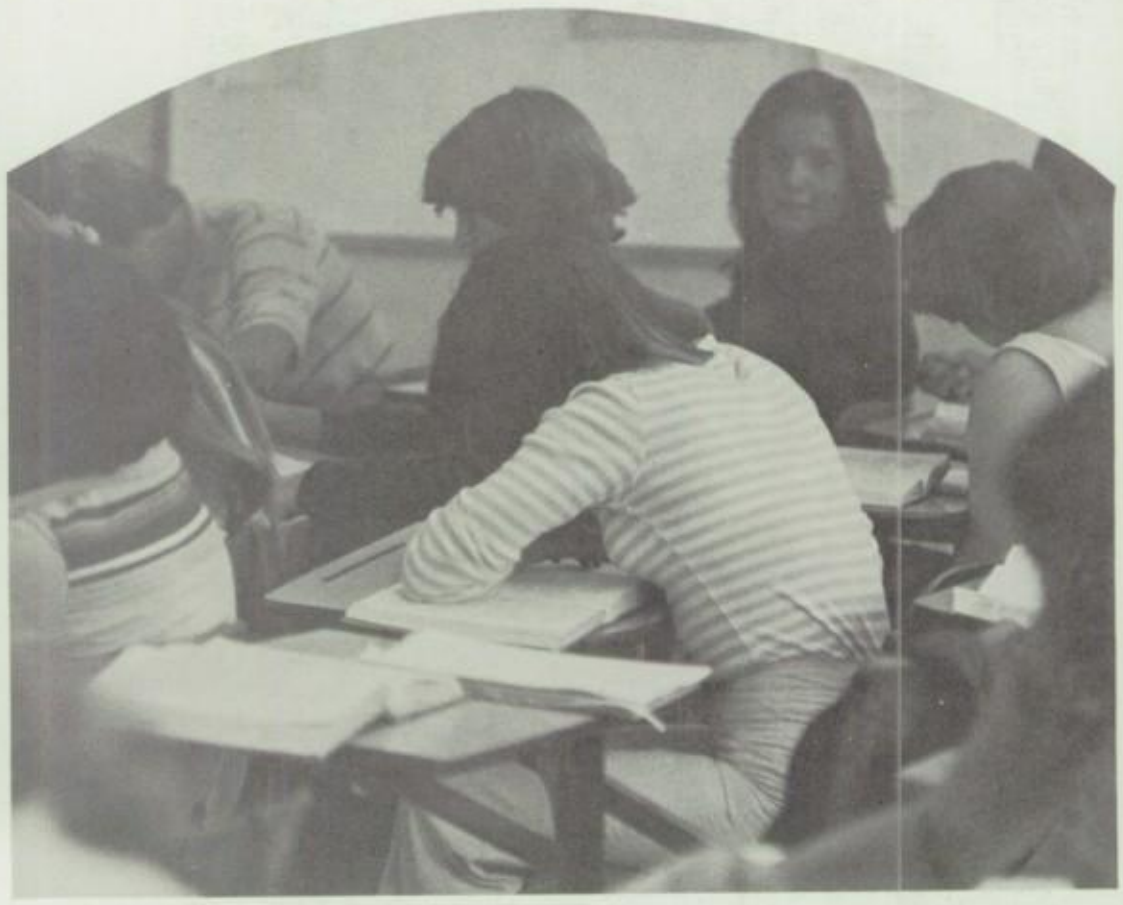


Students helping each other out.

Through the variety of Math classes at Uni, students are provided with a strong background of mathematical concepts.

Ranging from Algebra to Calculus, all classes primarily develop the students thinking process, helpful in any field.

A class full of hard workers



Almost made it.

Where'd the ball go?

Physical Education is important in that students need to participate in various activities for good health. Uni students have shown their determination to strive for fitness through such classes as gymnastics, Recreational Physical Education Athletics, and weight Lifting.

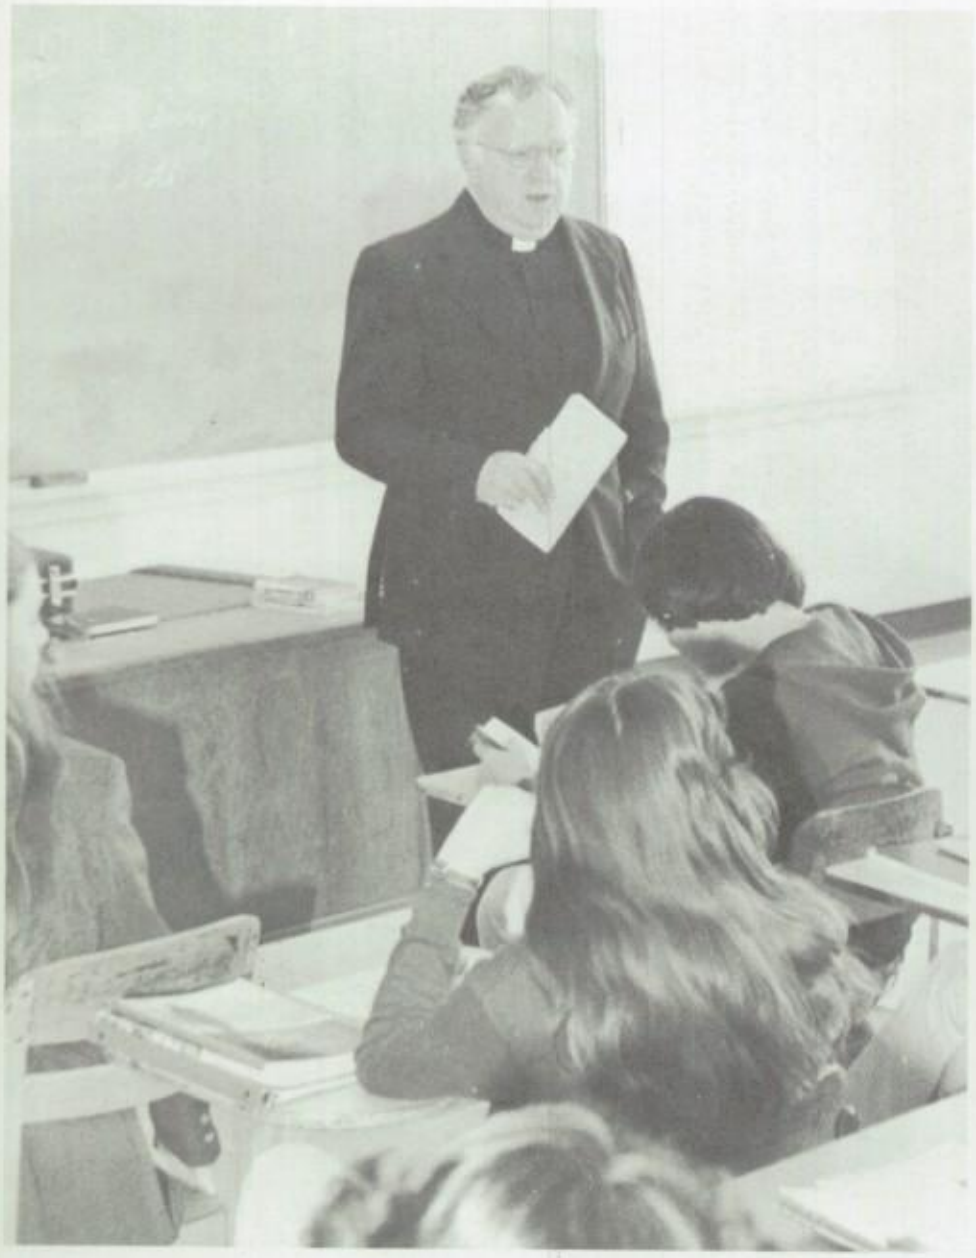
This is a comfortable position.

There's Lee again.

Spike!

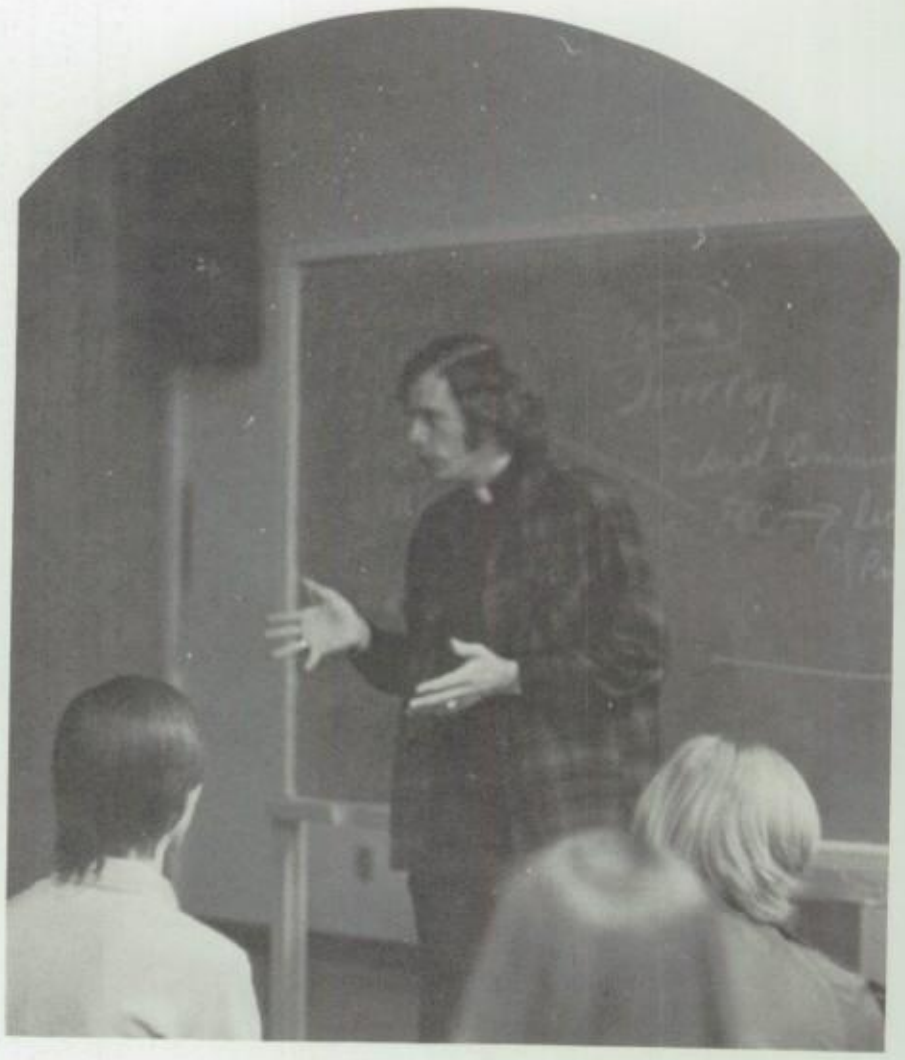
Come back Ball!

Into Orbit.



Explanation on morality!

". . . and then Jesus said . . ."



Checking daily attendance.

Religion classes are widely varied at Uni, but all of them have a common goal. That goal is to further the understanding among the students, and bring them closer together in friendship through religion.

One religion class which helps people learn more about others and their ideas is Christian Life Styles. Although its three main objectives are the married, single, and religious life, they all deal with human relationships. Through the class discussions, we learn more about ourselves and others.

RELIGION REACHES US THROUGH FRIENDS

Fielding questions from students.

Learning the degrees of imputability.

Guy is all ears!

Making new friends in class.

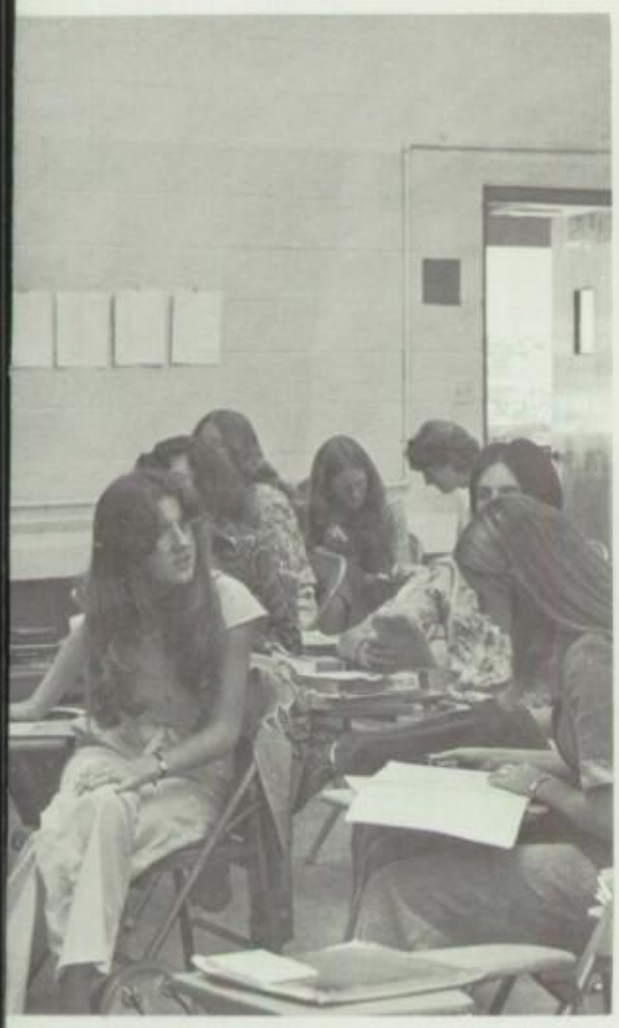
Science at Uni helped people discover new forms of life and also the physical properties of nature. These classes range from biological studies of life to the chemical elements in lab sciences.

In Physics, students are required to experiment in such fields as electricity, magnetism and wave lengths. Although some experiments don't work out, all are aimed for the development of the student.

Circh Circh

But one point!

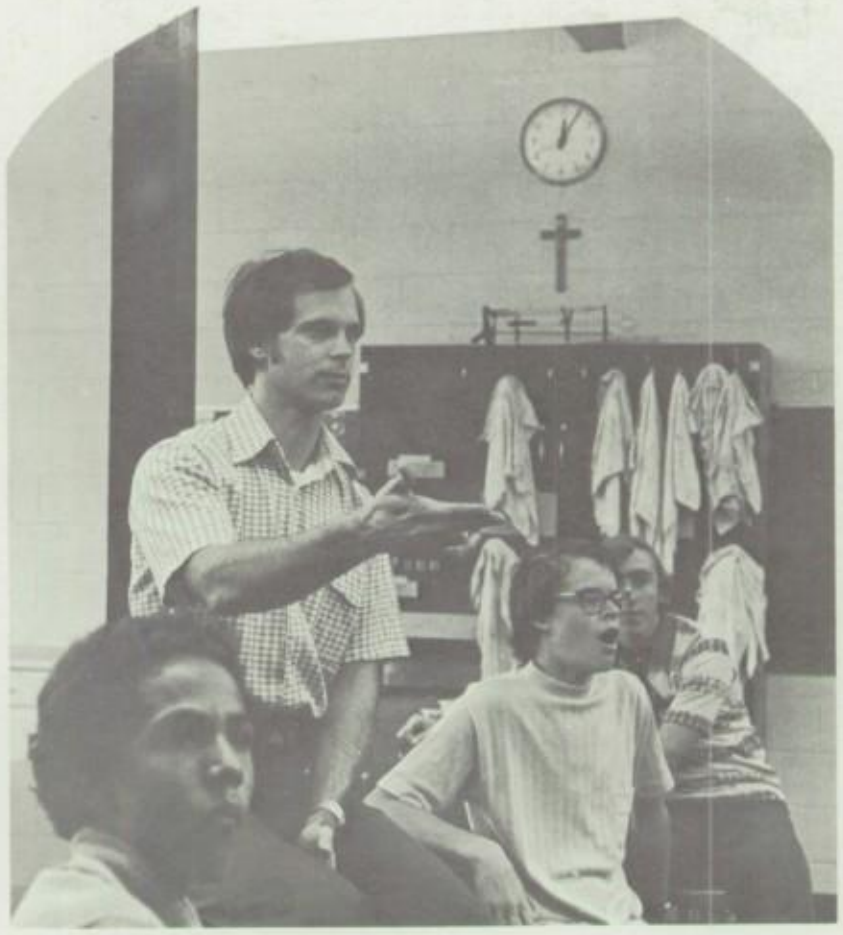
SCIENCE CREATES STUDIES OF LIFE



Dana making her point.

It can't be that hard.

Okay, But . . .

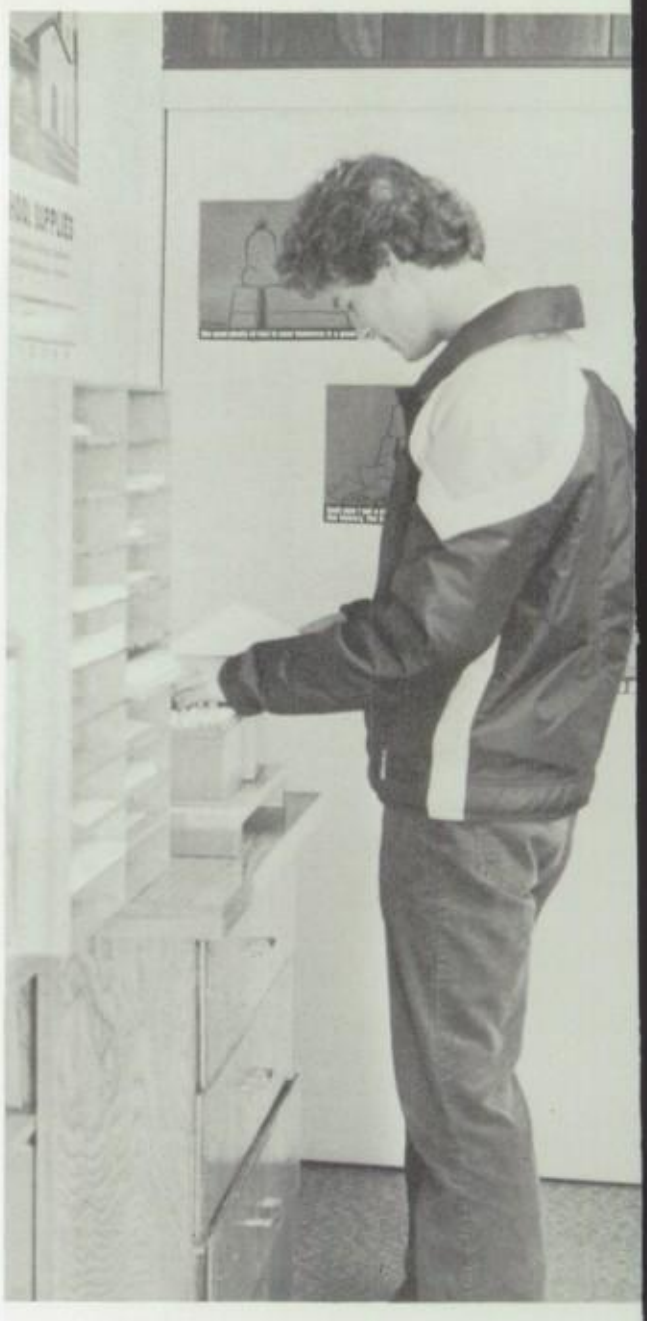


There it is.

I wish I knew how to spell it.

Mr. Wilimeeeeek . . .

AIDES HELP IN GETTING THE WORK DONE



Let's see, that's Giamm . . .

Could you please repeat that?

What in the #@!!$* do you want now?

Is he in C Block?

You spelled that name wrong!

Monique, everybody makes mistakes.

University High School, student speaking.

Uni offers the student a chance to hilp in the operation of the school. Students can take Phone-Aid, Office-Aid, Counseling-Aid, and Library-Aid. Students help the secretaries and administrators by running passes, answering phones, filing, and many other jobs, that make the Aid a very important person in the functioning of the school.

Filing's a bummer.

COMMUNITY INVOLVEMENT-PROMOTERS-COMMUNITY INVOLVEMENT...

Once again, it is that time when we say "THANKS" to all the people who worked in making PRESIDIO 1977 a success. Hopefully this is a collection of those memories of those high school years that everyone will cherish throughout their lives.

First, we would like to thank the staff of PRESIDIO '77 for their hard work in the production of University High Schools' finest yearbook. We do not have the time to list all those who spent long hours, and many weekends, working on this yearbook, but each knows who he or she is, and all we would like to say is "Thank You!"

Second, we would like to thank Mr. Rod Williams, of Josten's American Yearbook Company, for all his help in the production of this yearbook, for without his direction and influence this yearbook may never have gotten here.

Next, we would like to thank Victor and Nancy Avila and their fine photography studio, for their patience and help in getting the senior and sports section finished. They put up with alot of deadlines and requests and never once did they let us down.

Lastly, we would like to say a special "THANK YOU" to Sr. Leonard Gaskell, for without her knowledge and direction this yearbook could not have been produced. We went through alot of hard times and big disagreements, but they all paid off in the end, with the production of this schools' finest annual.
